G Am Bm G

Winter how hath all thy might now been routed, put to flight,

Bm G Em G

5 since her lance, in mor-tal fight, May on thee hath bro - ken.

Am Bm G Bm

9 There beyond the forest's bound, meadow flow'rs bestow the ground. From the blooms which

G Em G Em Bm

14 there I found, Pluck'd I many a to - ken. An ap-pealing voice re-veal-ing

Am Em Bm

19 springtime's heal-ing heard I then. Through the springing meadows, swinging,

Am G Am Bm

23 go ye singing, maids and men. Now the hap-py throng of May flaunts it-self in

G Bm G Em G

28 colours gay. Maids, pledge not your hearts, I pray. Leave the word un - spo - ken.
